Прочитай текст и утверждения после него. Отметь только те утверждения, которые соответствуют содержанию.

Oxford by Day

Oxford is a beautiful city by day. The university gardens, the parks and the fields around the river make the centre of Oxford a surprisingly green place. In good weather visitors also love walking through the narrow old streets between the university buildings and around the Botanic Gardens, which are the oldest in Britain (from 1621).

Many people travel around the city by bike. Another way to see Oxford is to get away from streets and traffic and enjoy the city from the river. In the old days people used boats to carry passengers and animals down the river, but now students and tourists use them.
